

ADDI ROAD WRITERS' FESTIVAL 2022

📅 Saturday 14 May, 12–6.30pm, Addi Road Community Centre, Marrickville

🍷 Bar + vegan food 🐶 Family and dog friendly 🅐 Parking on site

📍 GUMBRAMORRA HALL

12.20pm	Breaking the Mirror Constructing a biography of your father	Bronwyn Rennex and Anna Salleh with Claudia Taranto
1.00pm	The Changing Man Boys into men: journeys and voices	Luke Carman, Tom Patterson, Luke Johnson and Jack Ellis
1.45pm	How Many Roads Photo exhibition slideshow	Johnny Barker's photos of men who live around Central Station
1.50pm	Belfast Calling Six poets from Northern Ireland send us their greeting	Moyra Donaldson, Shelley Tracey, Matthew Rice, Marion Clarke, Linda McKenna
2.00pm	The Body Politic Sport and social justice: a new awareness in play	Craig Foster and Simon Rosenbaum with Stephanie Convery
2.45pm	Fear and Fury 2022	Locust Jones drawing performance with Tim Bruniges
3.00pm	Drawing Your Own Bed and Lying In It Autobiographical comics and the graphic art of self-determination	Safdar Ahmed, Meg O'Shea and Jin Hien Lau
3.50pm	Creating a real dialogue with Indigenous people	Warren Roberts and YARN Australia
4.00pm	Intimate Latitudes Indonesian literature in translation	Norman Erikson Pasaribu, Tiffany Tsao and Belinda Lopez
4.55pm	Songs From Home	Dang Lan and Toby Martin
5.00pm	The Taste of Change Food, culture and society	Rosanna Barbero, Paul van Reyk and Simon Thomsen
5.45pm	Uncle Wes Marne celebrates 100 years of living with his first book, Through Old Eyes	Uncle Wes, Bigambul Elder, shares his stories, poems and songs

📍 GREEK THEATRE

12.30pm	Inside the Confession Machine On telling all + the ethics of memoir	Eda Gunaydin, Miro Billbrough and Sheila Ngoc Pham
1.15pm	Intuition Kingdom	Mark Mordue prose-poetry diary reading. DC Cross accompanies on improvised guitar.
1.30pm	Escape From the Land of Bad Dreams How poetry can reshape your world	Robert Adamson and Prithvi Varatharajan with James Jiang
2.15pm	What the art of storytelling means for Indigenous men	Poet Ethan Bell
2.30pm	Under the Influence Forming ourselves from second-hand materials	Vanessa Berry, Lo Carmen and Felicity Plunkett
3.15pm	Shaped by cicadas	Poet/performer Geoff Forrester and his alter-ego Tug Dumbly
3.30pm	Breaking the News Frontlines so close we fail to see them. Have media monopolies and online algorithms blinded good journalism?	Mridula Amin, Ben Bohane, Angelique Lu, Michael West and Rick Feneley
4.30pm	Drug Talk How we do drugs. And how drugs do us.	Alyson Colquitt, Chris Fleming, Henry Everingham and Wart
5.15pm	The Black Wing Serenade	Storytellers of vision and song

Artistic Directors: Mark Mordue and Sheila Ngoc Pham